

The RARE & Critical Conversation Series Presents

Vale La Pena: My Journey in Doing Work That Matters for Latin Engineering and Computing Students*

Date: October 7, 2024

Time: 10:00–11:30AM

Location: Tempe
Campus, Memorial
Union, MU 085, Union
Stage

Register here:

bit.ly/SLRodriguez

Join Dr. Sarah Rodriguez, author of Latin Students in Engineering: An Intentional Focus on a Growing Population*, as she shares what she's learned on her research and service journey. This presentation will explore the challenges that Latin* students face in their journeys to become engineers and computer scientists as well as the assets that they bring with them from their homes and communities. She will share implications for institutional Latin* STEM servingness as well as consejos (advice) to inspire you to harness your own power and be a source of transformation for your communities by doing work that matters.